Section 1: Introduction

These Rules were adopted in accordance with the powers conferred by the Articles of association of The United Kingdom Freight Demurrage and Defence Association Limited which provide for the alteration, abrogation or addition to the Rules by special resolution of the Association.

The cover provided by the Association to its Members is set out in the Rules. The cover provided to Members is always subject to the warranties, conditions, exceptions, limitations and other terms set out in these Rules.

The Rules contain words which have a precise meaning. These defined terms are set out in the table of definitions in Section 9. This definitions section describes the intended interpretation of the defined terms only when they appear in bold and capitalised within the Rules.

As set out in Rule 34, Circulars and Practice Recommendations are published from time to time by the Association to provide guidance for Members on certain matters as well as information on resolutions or bye-laws made from time to time by the Directors. They may be viewed on the Website. Practice Recommendations now in effect are set out in the Appendix.

Rule 5 sets out certain continuing obligations owed by Members to the Association. It is stressed to all Members that it is the obligation of the Member to give proper and timely notification to the Association of matters covered by these Rules, and not the obligation of any lawyers or other persons representing the Member.

Section 1: Introduction

The following provisions of the Insurance Act 2015 (“the Act”) are excluded from the Rules and any contract of insurance as follows:

- (1) Sections 8 and 14 of the Act are excluded. As a result, any breach of Rule 8(2), the duty of fair presentation and/or the duty of utmost good faith shall entitle the Association to avoid the contract of insurance.
- (2) Section 10 of the Act is excluded. As a result, unless otherwise stated, all warranties in these Rules or any contract of insurance must be strictly complied with and, if the Member or any person covered under these Rules fails to comply with any warranty, the Association shall be discharged from liability from the date of the breach, regardless of whether the breach is subsequently remedied.
- (3) Section 11 of the Act is excluded. As a result, if the Member or any person covered under these Rules fails to comply with any Rule or term of the contract of insurance between the Association and any person covered under these Rules the Association's liability may be excluded, limited or discharged in accordance with these Rules and/ or any such term.
- (4) Section 13A of the Act is excluded. As a result the Rules and the insurance contract between the Association and the Member and any person covered under these Rules shall not be subject to, nor shall the Association or the Managers be in breach of, any implied term that they will pay any sums due in respect of a claim within a reasonable time save where the breach is deliberate or reckless.

The Rules are subject to the Memorandum and Articles of association of the Association.

Section 2: Cover

 - (b) through any neglect or default on his part or that of his servants or agents,then, unless the Directors in their discretion decide otherwise, in each case the Member shall not be entitled to recover any such Costs from the Association and shall be liable to repay to the Association any Costs which the Association may have incurred in connection with such claims or disputes or Proceedings.

Costs incurred before support given

- (3) If a Member incurs any Costs in connection with any claims, disputes or Proceedings referred to in Rules 2(3) and (4) before the Member has the support of the Association to incur them, the Member shall not be entitled to recover any such Costs from the Association unless and to such extent as the Association decides to give support.

Section 2: Cover

Factors taken into account

- (4) The Directors may take into account any matters that appear to them to be relevant when deciding whether or not the Association will give support to the Member in relation to Costs. A non-exhaustive list of relevant matters that may be taken into account includes:
- (a) the merits of the claims, disputes or Proceedings in connection with which the Member seeks the support of the Association;
 - (b) the reasonableness of the Member's conduct assessed by reference to what the Member would or should have done if not eligible for cover with the Association;
 - (c) the extent to which the Member has complied with any relevant Practice Recommendation or Circular or any other obligation of the Member under the Rules;
 - (d) the cost effectiveness of the steps proposed by or taken on behalf of the Member;
 - (e) the interests of the Membership as a whole in addition to the interests of the individual Member; and

Appointment of lawyers

- (2) No Member shall without the prior approval in writing of the Association appoint any lawyer or other person for legal or other advice in connection with any claim, dispute or Proceedings which might give or has given rise to a claim on the Association.

 - (a) collect, preserve and promptly produce all relevant documents and evidence whatsoever in his or his agents' custody, possession or control and whenever so requested allow the Association or lawyers or other persons appointed to act on his behalf to inspect them and to take copies notwithstanding any assertion of legal privilege or confidentiality; and
 - (b) both permit and use best endeavours to assist the Association or any such lawyers or persons to interview and obtain the co-operation of any servant, agent or other person who may at any time have been employed by the Member or whom it is considered may have information relevant to the casualty, event, dispute or claim; and
 - (c) keep the Association informed on the progress of any claim, dispute or Proceedings.

Settlement of claims

- (4) No Member shall without the prior consent of the Association and without complying with any requirements of the Association in relation to Costs, withdraw, discontinue, admit, settle or compromise:

Section 3: Conduct of Claims

- (a) any claim, dispute or Proceedings which might give or has given rise to a claim on the Association; or
- (b) any claim, dispute or Proceedings conducted with the support of the Association.

If a Member fails to comply with his obligations under this Rule 5(4) and does so settle or compromise a claim, dispute or Proceedings, he shall become liable to pay to the Association the whole of the Costs incurred by the Association or such proportion of the Costs as the Directors in their discretion shall decide.

Consequences of non-compliance

- (5) If a Member fails to comply with his obligations under this Rule 5, or if a Member wilfully or negligently withholds or knowingly conceals any relevant information, document or evidence or makes any false statement in relation to a claim, dispute or Proceedings, or if a Member causes or knowingly permits any other person to do so, the Directors may in their discretion either:
 - (a) decline to give support to the claim, dispute or Proceedings or
 - (b) reduce the sum payable by the Association in respect of the claim, dispute or Proceedings by such amount as they may determine, or
 - (c) require the Member to repay to the Association the whole or part of any Costs which the Association may have incurred in connection with the claim, dispute or Proceedings.

Rule 6 Claims Handling

- (1) Where a Member requests the approval of the Association to incur Costs, the Association may at any time (whether or not it has given that approval) appoint on behalf of the Member, upon such terms as the Association thinks fit, lawyers or other persons to investigate and advise on or otherwise deal with any claim, disputes or Proceedings. The Association may at any time terminate any such appointment.

Section 3: Conduct of Claims

- (2) All persons appointed by the Association on behalf of the Member or appointed by the Member with the approval of the Association shall be or be deemed to be appointed on the terms that they have been instructed by the Member at all times (both while so acting and after they have ceased so to act):
- (a) to give advice and to report to the Association in connection with the claim, dispute or Proceedings;
 - (b) to seek and act on the instructions of the Association; and

Costs contribution to Association

- (2) Notwithstanding and without prejudice to any other right under the Rules to recover Costs, the Association may at any time notify the Member in writing that it requires the Member to pay to the Association from any part of its recovered claim such sum in respect of Costs as the Association in its discretion considers reasonable. In determining that sum the Association may take into account the proportion the claim to be paid to the Member bears to the total it considers realistically recoverable by the Member and any other matters it considers relevant.

- (3) The Directors may from time to time resolve in relation to specified future claims or classes of claim arising in the next Policy Year that support will only be given to a Member for Costs to be incurred in a specified amount or proportion.
- (4) Any support given to a Member to which a resolution under Rule 7(3) applies shall (subject to any other conditions imposed by the Directors) be subject to the terms of that resolution whether or not such terms be expressed in any confirmation of such support.
- (5) Notice giving particulars of every resolution passed under Rule 7(3) and its effective date shall be given to every Member in the form of a Circular and shall be published on the Website.
- (6) In any case where an Entered Ship is detained, the Directors may in their discretion order that the Ship remain under detention when the Directors consider it in the interests of the Association to test the legality of the detention. In such a case the Association will reimburse to the Member such sums as the Directors in their discretion consider would compensate the Member for any direct loss or liability incurred to third parties by reason of compliance with the Directors' order.
- (7) The Directors may in their discretion decide that the Association shall pay or reimburse a Member in whole or in part any Costs for which the Association would not otherwise be liable.

Section 4: Membership and Entry

Rule 8 Applications for Cover

- (1) Any Applicant Member who wishes to enter a Ship shall make an application for such Entry in such form as may from time to time be required.
- (2) When applying for Entry or negotiating any changes to or renewal of the terms of Entry, the Applicant Member must provide all material particulars and information and ensure that all such particulars and information are true and complete.
- (3) The Association may without giving any reason refuse any application for the Entry of a Ship whether or not the Applicant Member in respect of such Ship is a Member of the Association.

Rule 9 Certificate of Entry

Contents of certificate

- (1) After accepting an application for the Entry of a Ship the Association shall issue a Certificate of Entry which shall state:
 - (a) that the Member has been entered in the Register of Members (except where he is already a Member);
 - (b) any special terms on which the Ship has been entered, including any limitations on cover;
 - (c) the date and time of commencement of the Entry;
 - (d) if for a fixed period, the date and time of cessation of Entry.
- (2) If at any time the Association and the Member shall agree to vary the terms on which the Ship is entered, the Association shall issue to the Member an endorsement stating the terms of such variation and the date from which such variation was or is to be effective.

Section 4: Membership and Entry

- (3) Every Certificate of Entry (with any endorsements) shall be conclusive evidence of its terms and binding unless in the opinion of the Association it contains any error or omission, in which case the Association may issue a new Certificate of Entry or a new endorsement which shall in like manner be conclusive evidence and binding.

Rule 10 Membership

- (1) If the Association accepts an application for the Entry of a Ship from an Applicant Member who is not already a Member then such Applicant Member shall, as from the date of the acceptance of such Entry, become a Member and his name shall be entered in the Register of Members.
- (2) If the Association accepts an application for Entry of a Ship from an insurer, any Ship in respect of which the application is made shall be entered by way of reinsurance and shall for the purposes of these Rules be an Entered Ship and the Owner of that Entered Ship and the insurer reinsured may each, in the discretion of the Directors, be accepted as a Member on such terms as may be agreed by the Directors. If the insurer concerned does not become a Member, he shall in all other respects have the same rights and be under the same obligations for the purposes of these Rules unless otherwise agreed by the Association. Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Practice Recommendations provide guidance for Members on certain matters, as well as information on resolutions or bye-laws made from time to time by the Directors. They are applicable at all times unless otherwise amended. Members will be made aware of updates to Practice Recommendations in accordance with Rule 41 and by publication on the Website. Further copies are also available upon request to the Managers.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Practice Recommendation 1 Dates of Entry – owner and charterer Members

The attention of Members is drawn to Rule 1(1)(c) of the Association's Rules under which a Member is only covered for costs incurred which arise out of events occurring during the period when the ship is entered in the Association. This can have implications where contracts are agreed in advance of the delivery of a ship but where the ship is not entered with the Association until it is delivered to the Member. Were such a contract to be cancelled or claims to arise prior to the ship being delivered, the Association could not accept any claims arising unless the ship had been entered from the date of the contract.

With regard to owned entries, Rule 1(4) of the Association's Rules also provides as follows:

“Claims concerning the building, purchase or sale of a Ship shall be deemed to arise at the date of the relevant contract or such later date and on such terms as the Association may agree”.

The effect of this sub-section is that when an Application for Membership is completed the risk will usually only attach, so far as claims under a construction or sale and purchase contract are concerned, if the entry is made with effect from the date of the building or purchase contract or such later date as agreed with the Managers. Liability for calls also begins with effect from that date.

In the case of the assignment or novation of a building or purchase contract where the new buyer steps into the shoes of the original buyer, the appropriate date of entry will usually be the date of the original contract, if cover is required for claims arising under the original contract, as opposed to the date of the assignment or novation. Where a ship under construction is purchased under a Memorandum of Agreement (a newbuilding on-sale) the appropriate date will be the date of the Memorandum of Agreement.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

In all cases entries are subject to the implied term, applicable to any entry, that at the time of application the applicant is not aware of any claim or any events likely to give rise to a claim in connection with the building or purchase contracts in question.

With regard to chartered entries, Members are required to enter ships from the date of any charterparty if they wish to be covered for disputes such as non-delivery or cancellation of the contract.

Practice Recommendation 2 Conduct of claims

Over a number of years the Association has experienced an escalation in the general level of legal costs and expenses in a number of major jurisdictions. Faced with this trend the Managers have, from time to time, issued circulars highlighting the need for Members, when confronted with matters which may involve the Association, to observe closely certain requirements aimed at both avoiding unnecessary legal expenditure and achieving the most cost-effective use of the Association's resources.

In summary, these requirements are as follows:

Notification of Claims

Rule 5(1) requires Members to give prompt notification to the Managers of any matter which may give rise to costs forming a claim on the Association. This obligation applies even if it is anticipated that a dispute may be settled amicably. Not only does prompt notice ensure compliance with the Rules, it also affords the Managers the opportunity to offer advice on any claim.

Appointment of Lawyers

Rule 5(2) requires that Members should obtain the Managers' written approval before a lawyer, surveyor or other professional advisor is instructed in any matter which may form a claim on the Association. The Managers recognise that on occasions this may not be possible and in these circumstances notification should be made to the Managers as soon as possible after any such appointment.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

In many cases the Managers can offer their considerable experience in claims matters by providing advice and assistance in resolving claims, without the need for external advice. Where the involvement of lawyers is unavoidable, the Managers will, wherever possible, respect a Member's choice of lawyer, provided that the lawyer is suitably qualified for the matter in question.

Information and Consultation

Under Rule 5(3), Members should ensure that the Managers are kept closely involved in and informed of the progress of a matter, whether or not lawyers have been instructed. In particular, the Managers should receive, contemporaneously with developments in the case, copies of all documentation and correspondence which is relevant to the conduct of the matter. Where lawyers have been appointed, this is often best achieved by ensuring that the Managers are copied into all correspondence with those lawyers. The Managers should also always be consulted before any decisions are taken which are likely to impact on the future conduct, strategy or the costs of a case.

There may be occasions when a Member intends to seek retrospective support for the costs of a case. This may arise in circumstances where a decision has been taken to restrict or decline support. Notwithstanding this if a Member intends to revisit the decision subsequently it remains an obligation of the Member to keep the Managers closely apprised of developments in the case, and to follow the guidelines contained within this and other Practice Recommendations.

Settlement

Under Rule 5(4) Members should seek the prior consent of the Managers before settling or compromising any claim, dispute or Proceedings which might give rise to a claim on or which has been conducted with the support of the Association. Under Rule 7(2) a Member may be required to pay a reasonable sum in respect of costs from a settlement to the Association. In particular, Members should ensure that any requirement of the Managers to make provision in any settlement agreement for costs or expenses which have been incurred by the Association is complied with. In some cases, the terms of any settlement or compromise may include a specific provision for the recovery of costs. That costs provision should be agreed with the Managers as that portion of the settlement will accrue to the Association. However, where a settlement is proposed which contemplates the payment of an “inclusive” sum, without specific reference to the recovery of costs, and a costs recovery might otherwise have been expected, then the Managers should be consulted over the proportion of the settlement which may properly be attributable to costs, and which will accrue to the Association, before the settlement is concluded.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Payment of Fees

In most cases, where the Association has given support to costs being incurred, fees will be met by the Association directly. However, where this is not the case, Members should seek the Managers’ approval before paying any fees which may subsequently form a claim on the Association.

Practice Recommendation 3

Fee arrangements with third party suppliers

The vast majority of costs incurred by the Association are in respect of the provision of legal services. The Managers have agreements with a number of Preferred Suppliers as to the fees to be charged for work undertaken for Members of the Association. Historically these fees have been charged on an hourly basis and ensuring value for money from those legal suppliers is a key requirement.

This hourly rate approach, albeit commonplace, provides no certainty to either the Member or the Association as to the actual ultimate cost of a case. The progress of litigation can, in some cases, be unpredictable. However the Association considers that greater certainty and transparency in the provision of legal and other services should be possible without compromising the quality of those services. The Association therefore considers that in each case where legal service providers and other service providers are instructed, consideration of alternative billing arrangements should be positively considered by the Member, legal or other service provider in conjunction with the Managers.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Alternative billing arrangements can include:

1. Capped fees
The arrangement anticipates hourly rates coupled with a maximum fee that will be charged for a particular task.
2. Fixed fees
Such fees are often agreed for specific tasks or sets of tasks.
3. Reduced hourly rates with success bonuses
This option includes reduced hourly rates but with an uplift in the event of "success". It is important that there is a clear agreement as to what constitutes "success" sufficient to trigger the uplift.
4. Collar arrangements
This option commonly relies on a mutually agreed target band for fees for a specific task. If the recorded time comes within the agreed target band then the supplier will invoice for the recorded time. If the fee comes below the target band then there would be an agreed uplift. If the target band is breached then there would be a reduction in those recorded fees above the target band.
5. Conditional and contingency fee arrangements
With such arrangements the fees are linked to the outcome of the proceedings. The nature of "success" must be clearly defined. Also such fee arrangement must be permissible in the relevant jurisdiction where the fee is being agreed.

With such conditional and contingency fees each case will be considered on its own facts and merits but in general amounts payable under such fee arrangements are capable of being covered provided that:

- a) the case merits support in any event and the arrangement s not being used to fund speculative litigation; and
- b) the fees offer a cost-effective means of pursuing the case; and

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

- c) the maximum sum payable under the arrangement does not grossly exceed the fees that would have been charged had the case been billed on an hourly basis; and
- d) any such fee arrangement is referred to the Managers in advance for their prior approval.

The Association recognises that in some cases an hourly rate may be considered the most appropriate means of charging for a particular case. Nevertheless in considering any cases for support and determining the extent of support the Association will take in to account the nature of the fee arrangements that have been agreed with the service providers concerned. The Association would also expect to be consulted in advance of any fee agreements being reached.

Practice Recommendation 4 Compliance with statutory requirements

Members will be aware that from time to time statutory requirements are introduced which become mandatorily applicable to ships or certain categories or types of ships. A non exhaustive list of such statutory requirements could include ISM, ISPS, the phase-out of single hull tankers or Marpol Annex VI (bunker fuel sulphur limits).

Members are reminded that under Rule 3(4)(b) of the Association's Rules, the reasonableness of a Member's conduct is one of the factors which the Directors may take into account when considering the extent to which the Association can support the costs of a case. In the context of disputes arising from the effect of statutory requirements, the approach taken by a Member towards compliance and certification will be one of the relevant factors taken into account.

Practice Recommendation 5 Bunker quality disputes

The Association has over a number of years been involved in cases concerning the supply of inferior bunkers. The geographical spread, number and complexity of these cases has increased in recent years and have been made more challenging with adverse contractual terms from bunker suppliers. In many instances the Member's case has been compromised by its inability to provide clear evidence that the bunkers supplied to the ship were the cause of the damage.

In order to maximise the prospects of successfully resolving such claims, Members are recommended to pay particular attention to the following:

1. The fuel specification contained in the charterparty or used when ordering fuel.

Members are advised to refer to the latest version of the recognised fuel standard such as ISO8217, which will govern sulphur content, and to endeavour to make specific reference to elements such as aluminium and silicon. Reference should also be made to stability, homogeneity and compliance with MARPOL and to the fuel being free from any material at a concentration that causes the fuel to be unacceptable for use in accordance with the standards.

2. The terms and conditions covering the purchase of fuel.

Members are advised to be aware that contracts have often been noted to include a clause exempting the supplier from or indemnifying it against all liability unless put on notice within a very short time period and action may therefore need to be taken promptly.

3. The Member's instructions for sampling procedures.

As samples from tanks may be claimed to be mixed with previous bunkers or residues, Members are advised to arrange for continuous drip samples to be taken throughout the bunkering process at the ship's manifold, in accordance with MARPOL procedures and the terms of the applicable contract.

Clear procedures should be agreed in charterparties and supply contracts for sampling and testing the fuel, including the exchange, witnessing, sampling location, sealing and storage of samples as well as procedures for resolving any quality disputes, including identifying which samples are to be binding.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

4. Fuel analysis scheme

Members are advised to consider entering the ship into a fuel analysis scheme and to follow any recommendations made under that scheme.

5. The Member's handling of the fuel

The careful storage and treatment of low sulphur fuel is important in order to minimise engine problems.

Members are advised to pay careful attention to specific technical requirements of any fuel stemmed, including heating, use of additives, engine manufacturer recommendations and cylinder lube oil. Members should also avoid blending fuels from different sources due to a risk of incompatibility and instability.

In determining the extent to which the Association can give support to the costs of a bunker quality dispute the Directors may enquire as to the extent to which the Member has followed the above or similar guidelines.

Practice Recommendation 6 Bunker supply ownership

There have been a number of recent instances where owner Members have been forced to pay for bunkers supplied to the ship on behalf of a charterer who has subsequently become insolvent.

Although in a number of jurisdictions it is impossible to prevent the creation of a maritime lien in favour of a bunker supplier, Members are recommended to protect their position so far as possible by having a clause along the following lines stamped on the invoice for any goods or services, including bunkers, supplied on behalf of charterers.

“The goods and/or services being hereby acknowledged, receipted for, and/or ordered are being accepted and/or ordered solely for the account of charterers Messrs..... of and not for the account of said ship or her owners. Accordingly, no lien or other claim against said ship can arise therefrom.”

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Practice Recommendation 7 Indirect Taxes – the approach of the Association

As Members will be aware, pursuant to the Association's Rules, all legal and claims related services are supplied to a Member notwithstanding any involvement on the part of the Association. It has been the general practice of the Association, at the Managers' discretion, to waive the requirement of prior payment by a Member and to settle directly with claims service suppliers those fees and disbursements which have been incurred in relation to services supplied to a Member, provided they have been incurred with the Managers' prior approval.

Many jurisdictions, both within the European Union ("EU") and elsewhere commonly require the payment of indirect taxes on the supply of claims related services to a Member. Subject to the terms of this Practice Recommendation, the Association's position is that it will, in addition to the costs of the services themselves, meet indirect taxes which may be levied on such services.

The following sets out the procedures as to how invoices from claims related service providers should be rendered.

The following applies both to electronic and hard copy invoices.

All Suppliers of Services Worldwide

1. All invoices should be addressed to the Member, either showing the Member's full business style or describing the Member as the Owner or Charterer (as appropriate) of the m.v.." (insert ship name).."
2. All invoices must also show the following details:-
Ship name
The Association's file reference (if known)
Type of service supplied
Description of incident or contract (as appropriate)
3. The original invoice must be sent to the Member either in hard copy or electronically and a copy of the invoice, again either electronically or in hard copy must be sent to the Managers.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Suppliers based in the EU

Upon being initially instructed by or on behalf of a Member a service provider will be provided with details of the relevant Member's EU VAT status and, where appropriate, the Member's VAT registration number. As in the past, the supply of services to a Member who does not "belong" within the EU will, in most circumstances, be free of VAT provided the EU based service provider is given confirmation that the relevant Member has a place of business outside the EU.

Suppliers based in the same EU country as the Member

It will be necessary for the EU based supplier of services to charge VAT on VATable services, which the Member may recover if that Member is able to be registered for VAT. Members based in the EU should ordinarily be registered for VAT and in such circumstances, where the relevant invoice forms an accepted claim against the Association, the Association will pay the amount of such an invoice net of VAT, the VAT being settled directly by the Member with the EU based supplier of the services.

Suppliers based in an EU country other than that of the Member

Where a supplier of services based in one EU country provides services to a Member in, or belonging to, another EU country, the supplier of services will, in most circumstances, not need to include VAT provided the Member's VAT registration number is quoted upon the relevant invoice. Where such an invoice forms an accepted claim against the Association the invoiced amount (net of VAT) will be met by the Association. Members are reminded that where VAT is applicable they must account for VAT using the reverse charge to the relevant authorities.

Suppliers and Members outside the EU

Liability for indirect taxes will be driven by local regulations. For example, UK service providers will charge VAT on VATable services which a UK based Member may recover if that Member is able to be registered for VAT in the UK. If the Member is not based in the UK, whether in the EU or otherwise, the services will be free of VAT as being outside scope.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

It is noted that as from 1st January, 2023, the UK is not part of the EU VAT regime.

Practice Recommendation 8 Pre-contract enquiries

Members will be aware that one of the factors taken into consideration in determining the extent of the Association's support is the "reasonableness of a Member's conduct." As part of this review the Directors will consider the extent of enquiries that have been made by a Member prior to entering into a contract or other agreement capable of being covered by the Association including but not limited to charterparties, agreements relating to ship-to-ship transfers, contracts of affreightment, Memorandums of Agreement, newbuilding or supply contracts, which forms the basis of a dispute.

The level of enquiries will of course depend on whether the Member has had previous dealing with the other party and also the nature of the trade or type and terms and details of the agreement being entered into. However the Directors do consider that where the contractual party is unknown or relatively unknown to the Member, reasonable enquiries should be made prior to entering into such a contract of other operators who have had dealings with this party or brokers who are knowledgeable of them or of independent third party advisers.

Practice Recommendation 9 Compliance with international sanctions and other mandatory legislation

Members will be aware that at various times governmental or other supranational bodies introduce sanctions or other types of legislation which impact on the ability of Members and others to conduct business or trade to particular areas or countries. This has particularly been the case recently in respect of the UN, US, UK and the EU which have introduced various sanctions regimes affecting business and trading relations with a number of countries including Russia, Iran, Syria, Libya and Venezuela.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Members are reminded under Rule 3(4)(b) of the Association's Rules, the reasonableness of a Member's conduct is one of the factors which the Directors may take into account when considering the extent to which the Association can support the costs of a case.

In addition Members are reminded that under Rule 4(2) any costs arising out of or consequent upon an Entered Ship carrying contraband, blockade running or being employed in any unlawful or sanctionable trade are expressly excluded from the Association's cover unless and to the extent that the Directors in their discretion otherwise decide.

Under proviso (b) to Rule 2, the Association's cover is premised on the basis that there will be no recovery of any costs which could risk the Association being or becoming subject to any sanction or prohibition. A Member's Entry may be terminated upon 30 days' written notice under Rule 17(3) and Rule 17(4)(a) also provides that the cover may be suspended until further notice or may be terminated immediately where the Association determines that it is exposed to the risk of secondary sanctions as a result of an Entered Ship being employed in a sanctionable trade. Additionally, under Rule 17(4)(b) cover may be terminated immediately if a Member or Entered Ship is sanctioned.

If an Entered Ship or Member is named as a sanctioned entity, for example as a Specially Designated National by the US Office of Foreign Assets Control, it is likely that cover will be immediately suspended or terminated.

In certain circumstances it may be necessary for tanker Members to provide bespoke attestations to the Association for the carriage of Russian crude oil and refined petroleum products. It is important that all Members undertake due and proper enquiries before entering into transactions, voyages or other arrangements that may potentially be affected by any governmental or supranational legislation including sanctions, as claims that arise subsequently may not be recoverable from the Association.

Practice Recommendation 10 Effective management of claims, control of costs and factors impacting support

The Managers are committed to ensuring that best practice is applied in the handling of cases by third party service providers and also to improve the cost effectiveness of the services provided.

As a legal costs insurer a proper and accurate assessment of the likely costs of a potential course of action is absolutely critical. If it becomes apparent that a service provider's estimate is likely to be exceeded then the service provider must bring that to the attention of the Managers at the earliest opportunity along with a detailed explanation as to the reasons for any overrun.

The Directors place great store in the proposed steps to be taken in any particular case and the costs to be incurred. Both are relevant factors, pursuant to Rule 3 of the Association's Rules, in determining support for any given case. The Directors have become increasingly concerned by the number of cases where estimates have proved inadequate or inappropriate. In the case of an inadequate or inappropriate estimate the service provider will be expected to honour the estimate previously given unless there are mitigating circumstances.

Under Rule 3(4) the factors to be taken into account in relation to decisions on support by the Managers and the Directors include the merits of the dispute, the reasonableness of the Member's conduct, the extent of compliance with obligations, cost effectiveness and the proportionality of costs to be incurred when considered in the context of the amount and issues in dispute, and generally.

Proportionality, costs versus claim amounts is something which is becoming increasingly prevalent and unless there are compelling mitigating circumstances costs will need to evidence proportionality to the claim amount otherwise this will undoubtedly have an impact on the extent of support that can be extended to the particular case in question.

Practice Recommendation 11 Enforceability of charterparty guarantees

The Association has been involved in a number of cases which involve the enforceability or otherwise of charterparty guarantees. As a result of ineffective drafting or the failure to comply with other formalities, Members have found themselves unable to enforce otherwise good claims.

Members will no doubt be aware of the reasons for asking a third party to guarantee performance by their contractual counterparty, which could include factors that the counterparty has no readily identifiable assets, is located in a jurisdiction where enforcement procedures may be unreliable or there may be certain reputational issues. Given the importance of such guarantees there are steps that should be taken when agreeing to such a guarantee, these can include:

- The guarantee should use wording that effectively provides the protection that the Member is seeking. For example, it should be payable on demand and contain a suitable choice of law and jurisdiction that will assist with enforcement in due course;
- Any guarantee should preferably be contained in a separate document signed by the party guaranteeing performance and not simply be contained in the charterparty and with words such as “guaranteed by [X]”;
- If the guarantee is to form part of the main contract, the wording should still be drafted in such a way that the terms of the guarantee are fully expressed and, most importantly, the guarantor signs and acknowledges its obligations under the guarantee;

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

- If the person signing the guarantee is purporting to do so as agent for the guarantor, or with its authority, the Member should satisfy itself that the person signing has the proper authority. A Member should not assume that a shipbroker or the Member's counterparty has authority to bind the guarantor;
- The entitlement of the guarantor to provide the guarantee in accordance with any local laws or regulations should be checked. For example, where a Chinese bank or other company provides a guarantee, this must be approved by and registered with the State Administration of Foreign Exchange. Otherwise the guarantee may not be enforceable in due course;
- Other formalities may need to be observed. Under English law, the guarantee must be in writing and signed by the guarantor or its authorised agent. This differs from other contracts, where there is not a need for the agreement to be in writing.

The above factors will be taken in to account by the Directors in the exercise of their discretion pursuant to the Association's Rules in determining support for a particular case which involves the enforcement of charterparty guarantees.

Practice Recommendation 12 Costs in multi-party litigation – intermediate charterers drop out and streamlining agreements

Notwithstanding back to back charterparties an intermediate charterer can still be found liable for the costs of a counterparty and unable to pass that liability on to another party. To minimise these risks a drop out or streamlining agreement should be considered at an early stage.

By way of background, in the VAKIS T [2004] 2 Lloyd's Rep. 465 the owner brought a claim against the head charterer for damage to the ship caused by its calling at an allegedly unsafe port. The head charterer similarly commenced proceedings against its sub-charterer who had access to evidence vital to defend the owner's claim. The owner's allegations were held to be spurious; the ship had never docked at the allegedly unsafe port and the cause of the damage was the unseaworthy condition of the ship. The intermediate charterer was therefore liable for the sub-charterer's costs and sought to pass on that cost liability to the owner. Although the tribunal found in favour of the intermediate charterer the High Court overturned the decision. The Court found that the claim, as between the intermediate charterer and sub-charterer, was without foundation and therefore failed on the grounds of causation. It was consequently not possible for the intermediate charterer to pass on the sub-charterer's costs to the owner.

Being back to back therefore is not an entirely risk free position.

Under English law arbitrators cannot order the consolidation of arbitral references (unlike cases which are subject to English High Court) therefore invariably multiple reference can be on-going under several charterparties. Different arbitrators can also be appointed which can lead to inconsistent decisions both at an interlocutory or substantive stage of the proceedings.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Consolidation agreements between the parties can minimise costs and avoid delays. In appropriate cases, Members and their advisers are encouraged to conclude such agreements or engage in dialogue in order to avoid unnecessary costs. The parties in a charter chain can agree that one or more parties can “drop out” of the litigation. Such agreements can be an effective way of minimising cost exposure for an intermediate charterer and reducing delays for the remaining parties. Alternatively, certain arbitrations in a chain can be “stayed” on the basis that the parties co-operate in the remaining reference(s). In more complex “streamlining” agreements the parties may agree to include some or all of the following:

- To bear their own costs and expenses incurred prior to the date of the agreement;
- To share costs and expenses going forward in relation to issues contemplated under the agreement. Such fees can be shared pro – rata to the monies at risk or to the number of parties to the agreement;
- To nominate a law firm to have the on-going conduct of the underlying dispute;
- To co-operate, including the provision of information, evidence (including making available all witnesses and experts) and disclosure of all relevant disclosable documents including survey reports, correspondence, witness statements and expert reports;
- To provide security and/or counter security where appropriate for the sums in dispute plus interest, and any liability for the recoverable costs payable in the underlying dispute, or to pay disputed sums or security into an interest bearing escrow account;

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

- To agree not to seek further security by way of arrest or attachment proceedings;
- To appoint the same arbitrators under all relevant charters, including any necessary third arbitrator or umpire;
- To stay intermediate disputes;
- To provide reasonable reporting of the progress of the underlying dispute;
- To agree a settlement mechanism where appropriate (e.g. the underlying dispute should only be settled upon terms agreed by all parties, with such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld) or to record the parties' agreement to be bound by a final arbitration award or judgment rendered in relation the underlying dispute; and
- To agree appropriate law and dispute resolution provisions which can order consolidation.

In order to minimise costs and delays Members are encouraged to consider consolidation of arbitral reference, or where appropriate, drop out, or streamlining agreements.

Practice Recommendation 13 Cyber related claims

Members will be aware of the increasing risk of cyber-crime particularly in light of the increasing role of technology within the shipping industry.

Members are reminded that under Rule 3 (4) a number of factors are taken into account when assessing the extent and level of support to be given by the Association. These include the merits of the claim or dispute in connection with which a Member seeks the support of the Association and the reasonableness of the Member's conduct assessed by reference to what the Member would or should have done if not eligible for cover with the Association. Essentially this represents an obligation upon a Member to act as a reasonable and prudent uninsured.

In the context of cyber risks it is reasonable for all Members to take appropriate cyber security measures and to have in place suitable processes and procedures to prevent and respond to a cyber-incident. These arrangements should be kept under review particularly in light of the changing nature and scope of cyber risks.

Cyber security guidelines have been issued by several industry bodies including the IMO, BIMCO and Intertanko.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

BIMCO has published a standard Cyber Security Clause which is designed to apply when a party's ability to perform its contractual obligations is affected by a cyber-security incident. The clause emphasises the need for parties to be aware of the risk and encourages them to have in place and regularly review systems and procedures in place to minimise that risk, and encourages co-operation and information sharing between parties in order to mitigate damage and to resolve cyber incidents. The clause also includes a simple limitation provision which is applicable in the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct. The clause does not address payment fraud and Members are recommended to prevent or minimise this risk through enhanced verification and authorisation procedures.

It is recommended that Members consider incorporating this clause or similar in contracts as needed.

Practice Recommendation 14 Ship Managers' cover

The Association's cover extends to Ship Managers. Although most Ship Managers will have some sort of cover for liabilities arising out of their activities for and on behalf of an owner or operator, that cover does not always cover the costs of all types of disputes that may arise.

Disputes which can be covered by the Association, subject to the Rules, include issues and disputes arising in multiple jurisdictions, under several contracts including those relating to the supply of fuel, food and necessaries to the ship, stevedore services, crew providers, local ships agents and, potentially, under the ship management contract itself, for managers with standalone cover.

The cover does not, nor is it intended to, replicate the cover provided by Ship Managers' existing liability cover and the Association would expect a Member to have liability cover on terms equivalent or no less favourable than those of The International Transport Intermediaries Club Ltd.

Practice Recommendation 15 Traders' cover

The Association is able to provide defence cover for commodity traders under a FD&D Traders' Extension for legal costs insurance relating to certain disputes arising under commodity sale/purchase contracts. Trader Members can purchase the cover for specific commodity trading desks and it would be complimentary to their navigating defence entry with the Association as either owner or charterer.

- Much like ordinary defence insurance the cover will respond to situations where the trader Member has a genuine or potential dispute or requires legal advice in order to resolve or defend claims. Trader Members, subject to the rules, have the benefit of up to $1m per dispute.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

- The cover is available to a trader Member in its capacity as cargo owner or trader of goods which are either intended to be, are being or have been carried on a ship whether or not that ship is ever entered with the Association (e.g. an owned entry or chartered-in ship which is declared under a traditional defence entry) at any material time.
- The cover is not an “all risks” policy but can respond in relation to disputes concerning freight, laytime, despatch and/or demurrage of the ship or the loading, lightering, stowing, trimming and/or discharge of the cargo as well as agency.
- The cover excludes any legal and or other costs necessary to establish or resist claims concerning damage (i.e. quality) to or loss (i.e. quantity) of cargo. For example, cover shall not respond where the dispute is completely unrelated to a ship (e.g. wrongful cancellation, pre-shipment default, counterparty insolvency) or where the dispute in question arises under a service agreement (e.g. transport, storage, inspection, financing) or a contract of insurance. However the cover can respond if say demurrage is incurred in respect of a parcel of cargo intended to be carried but which has not yet been loaded. In all other respects, the cover follows and is subject to all other defence rules.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

Practice Recommendation 16 General Average

The Association's covered risks (under Rule 2(3)(h)) include claims, disputes or proceedings relating to the entered ship concerning:

“General and/or Particular Average contributions or charges”.

A General Average (“GA”) contribution arises from a loss borne by a party to a maritime venture which arises in consequence of an extraordinary sacrifice made or expenses incurred (voluntarily and reasonably) at the time of a peril for the purpose of preserving a ship and its cargo. GA charges are the adjuster’s fees, valuation certificates, GA survey costs and any other out of pocket expense. Both GA contributions and charges are typically split, by an adjuster, between those parties with property or freight at risk by reference to values.

GA contributions and charges are commonly disputed by cargo interests. Usually such disputes turn on alleged breach of a contract of carriage and, typically, a failure to exercise due diligence in rendering the ship seaworthy at the commencement of a voyage. As P&I cover includes claims for unrecoverable GA contributions or charges in such circumstances, disputes relating to their recoverability also fall within the ambit of P&I cover and are excluded from the Association’s cover by virtue of Rule 4(5).

A Member may become involved in a recovery action for GA contributions or charges when there is no real dispute on liability or no defence raised which relates to an alleged breach of the contract of carriage. An example of the latter would be a dispute concerning the quantum of a contribution or charge, or the recovery or enforcement of undisputed but unpaid GA contributions (where there is no allegation of lack of due diligence). Such disputes fall within the Association’s cover.

Appendix: Practice Recommendations

However, often GA adjustments are only issued many years after a GA incident. A statement from an adjuster or lawyer that an amount of fees incurred falls for the account of "defence interests" is not determinative of the Association's commitment; such claims should be dealt with in the normal way e.g. by reference to timely notification to the Association, which should be kept properly appraised to permit a staged approach to support on a merits basis as per Rule 3(4). Any commitment to costs must remain proportionate given the amounts in dispute and steps should be taken by the Member to ensure that other insurers (e.g. loss of hire, hull & machinery, P&I and GA absorption underwriters) are involved in incidents provoking a GA declaration and that they will pay appropriate fees as needed.

If the Managers are not appraised at an early stage of the possibility of a claim on the Association for costs arising out of a GA adjustment, or are not kept advised of material developments, this may impact the extent to which the Association can commit to such costs under Rule 5(5) and in line with Practice Recommendation 2 Conduct of Claims.
